Canker Humor, Liver Complaint,
Rheumatism,
Consumption of the Bowels.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., March 25, 1869.

MR. H. R. STEVENS,

Dear Sir—The following is a statement of my experience with the great Blood Remedy, Vegetine. I have been keeping a boarding-house here for many years, and have had the misfortune to have a great deal of sickness in my family. In one case [illegible], I noticed the wonderful effect of Vegetine [illegible] year 1867, a young man, then sixteen [illegible] who was a distant relative of mine, came [illegible] sea. He had injured his left leg on ship some months before, and when the [illegible] into this port he came to my house, [illegible] so that he could not go to his home in [illegible] His leg was swollen above the knee more [illegible] its natural size, and he was obliged to [illegible] ing after him, having no use of it what[illegible] effect of this had reduced him to a mere [illegible] His father came down, and employed [illegible] Hayward of Boston to attend him, who [illegible] a prominent position in the Massa[chusetts] General Hospital. He pronounced it a Necrosis; said he must be removed to [illegible] have his leg opened, and the bone [illegible] allow the discharge of matter there [illegible] otherwise the leg must be amputated. [illegible] ing it advisable to pursue this course, [illegible] used Vegetine, the great Blood Remedy, with so good effect, concluded to [illegible] a case. After taking it regularly for [illegible] his leg was but little swollen, and his [illegible] with so much improved that he did not [illegible] same person. At the end of five [illegible] went home perfectly cured. He [illegible] Lowell until the commencement of the [illegible] joined the army, and was pronounced a well man.

[illegible] one case out of many where I [illegible] Blood Remedy used with unparal[leled] [illegible] have taken it myself for twenty [illegible] for Dyspepsia and General De[bility] [illegible] happened to give me new life [illegible] it was completely cured from [illegible] she had suffered for years, [illegible] everything else without receiving [illegible] other lady was cured from Liver [illegible] was a bad case, and so considered [illegible] physicians who had attended her [illegible] Canker Humor and tried all [illegible] any benefit [illegible] Complaint [illegible] by the [illegible] from time to [illegible]

A lady [illegible] Consumption of the Bowels, and found [illegible] relief than anything else she could procure.

I do not want to over estimate its usefulness, but I do want those suffering from sickness to know what this good medicine has done and is still doing, for I know what it is to be imposed upon when sick, and I think it is wrong for any one to over-estimate a remedy at the expense of the helpless sick, and I, for one, will not do it under any circumstances whatever.

FROM CONNECTICUT.

SKETCHES OF NEW LONDON.

[By a Special Correspondent.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., Oct. 13, 1877.

I would like, were it mutually agreeable to introduce New London to Bangor. Coming here sick, after a wretched journey (that began wrong; for I took the St. John's train in order to reach Boston, and I kept up just about that order of exercises all the way to New London, too sick to know or care much how, or why I journeyed,) I was not well prepared to appreciate the beauties and advantages of the place. I did appreciate, most gratefully the amazing kindness of the family that received me, a soiled, discouraged pilgrim, into their genial home. I came to them an utter stranger (except through correspondence) ashamed enough of my plight, but I found them such as we expect our kindred to be. Having themselves known trouble, they have hearts that feel quickly and deeply for the troubles of others. Two of this family were in the Chicago fire, and to hear the relations from eye-witnesses of that awful scene of suffering and fear gives one "a realizing sense" of what it must have been. Fire! what scourge is so terrible? Save us, O Lord, from fire! In their ample, charming home these friends nursed and comforted me back to comparative health. What a heaven on earth is a happy family, a family where own father and mother, and sons and daughters dwell in plenty and peace, none being a "black sheep," daughters all lovely and beautiful, sons all free from bad habits. Each member of the family contributing his or her share towards the general comfort and joy. Ah! there are not too many such families to be found. When one is found, 'tis well to "make a note on't." This I desire to do. And I would like to say much of the new friends that my misfortunes have raised up for me, but propriety forbids, perhaps even so much as I have said, somehow, it would come out. In such an age as this it is so delightful to see a large family trained in godly ways and walking therein. There are so many families where the daughters are a weight and a care, where the sons are brought home intoxicated, or are caught in dishonest tricks, that one's faith in human nature becomes shaken as to cause the wish that the race might cease. In a household where the family altar is kept up, and kneeling all about him as he prays, the heart again has hope, and believes that the Lord will really have his great company, that no man can number, redeemed from the earth. It is refreshing to body and soul to find Christians, people who pray honestly and live as they pray.

New London is a sea-port—population over 10,000. It is beautiful for situation and has many points of great interest, among which are a very ancient burial place, and an old mill that is situated on what appears to be enchanted ground. It is hardly like a real mill, there amid its deep shadows and foaming water, 'tis but fantasy and a dream. I think the owner of the elegant place adjoining this old mill which also he owns, keeps the mill on purpose for the wierd, sombre poetry of it, and as a relic of departed years. My friend and I stood leaning over the railing of the little bridge, gazing at the moss-grown rocks, the shaded banks and all the wild romantic nooks about, until we began to shiver in the deepening twilight, and were glad to seek more modern quarters.

This is a famous place for clams, oysters, fresh fish and crabs, also mosquitoes. Mr. Goddard and his sons, delight in going crabbing. The poor sprawling victims have to try hot water when they reach the house. One was left alive from yesterday's crabbing, and Will, the most ministerial looking one of the house, put him on the table. I thought he had suffered enough, in one way and another, to be allowed to live, so I stole him, and making off to the wharf, cast him back to his native water. Doubtless he is now relating to his astonished relatives and friends his terrific and dangerous adventures among human beings. I hope they all enjoy it, and that they will remember me too kindly to bite me when I'm in bathing; but judging from my past experience, it will make no difference with them that I took pains to do one of them a kindness.

Pequot was the original name of New London. In 1648 the General Court, considering that there had been no place named in memory of London, thought fit to honor that famous city by calling this New London. [illegible]

They also changed the name of its fair river from Mohegan to the Thames. The views of river, island and sea that are to be had here are of great beauty. In the Thames there is safe anchorage for vessels large and small, to a distance of ten miles above its mouth. Entrance from the sea is so easy that with the aid of a U. S. Coast Survey Chart the services of a pilot are not needed. This harbor is called one of the best in the Union. It never freezes. The New York Fleet, in part, make those waters their winter retreat.

The climate of New London is not so extreme as in many places. Warmer in winter; cooler in summer. It has ever been considered a remarkably healthy place. Its remarkable for the purity of its atmosphere, its drainage is excellent. People live to a great age in New London. A hundred years being an age not really attained, (one objection the writer would have to a residence in the place.) Typhoid fevers are almost unknown in New London and it is remarkably free from [illegible] childhood. Railroads to everywhere pass through this town. New York and Boston are each about four hours away.

New London is talked of as an important out-port of New York. The people here are largely interested in sea faring business; there are however, several manufacturers in New London. There is a navy yard on the east side of the Thames, about three miles above the city. New London has, even at low tide, depth of water sufficient to float the largest man-of-war, which is not true of Philadelphia, or New York.

Facing the harbor of New London, on the Southeast stretches Fisher's Island, nine miles in extent, just the place, with its fine shore and surf, for a summer resort, for which it is being prepared. Plumb Island, made especially famous by the beautiful poem "Inside Plumb Island" in Harpers, is not far distant, steamboats run all summer between New London and the Islands. The city is well supplied with pure water from Lake Konomoc. The lake is fed by springs, and trout make it their home. Since 1853 the city has been lighted with gas. Church edifices are handsome and costly, schools admirable, and well governed. There are four National Banks, and two Savings Banks in the city.

I am indebted to Mr. John R. Bolles, Secretary of the Board of Trade, for my information in regard to New London. I must say, notwithstanding his earnest testimony as to the healthfulness of the place, that a most atrocious cold has seized upon and cleaves unto me, seemingly growing worse and worse each day. I hope that flying Northward, to Vermont, which in a few days I expect to do, I shall escape it.

Very truly,
AUGUSTA MOORE.

HOW TO GET ALONG. Don't stop to tell stories in business hours.

If you have a place of business, be found there when wanted.

No man can get rich sitting around stores and saloons.

Never "fool" in business matters.

Have order, system regularity and also promptness.

Do not meddle with business you know nothing about.

Do not kick every one in your path.

More miles can be made in a day by going steadily than by stopping.

Pay as you go.

A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond.

Help others when you can, but never give when you cannot afford to, simply because it is fashionable.

Learn to say no. No necessity of snapping it out dog fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully.

Use your brains, rather than those of others.

Example has more influence than authority.

Learn to think and act for yourself.

Keep ahead rather than behind the times.

SOUR LAND. Sour land you can tell by simple observation, without any chemical tests. Look at the vegetation. There is one axiom of chemistry which you can always remember, and that is, that acids turn vegetables green to red. You will recollect having seen red plants at the side of the road where the land was well cultivated, and you will see upon the trees that grow upon such land something of the same appearance. There is often some acid element detrimental to our land, and it takes so much manure and so much skill to neutralize it that successful farming is nearly impossible. Another thing you will notice about sour lands. You will notice sorrel. That will grow for a few years and be followed by white clover. It is the pioneer of something better. It is the pioneer of such plants as we want to feed our animals with, containing starch.—Mass. Ploughman.

WHY THEY OFTEN FAIL. Young men often fail to get on in this world because they neglect small opportunities. Not being faithful in little things, they are not promoted to the charge of greater things.

A young man who gets a subordinate situation sometimes thinks it is not necessary for him to give it much attention. He will wait till he gets a place of responsibility, and then he will show people what he can do. This is a very great mistake. Whatever his situation may be, he should master it in all its details, and perform all its duties faithfully.

The habit of doing his work thoroughly and conscientiously is what is most likely to enable a young man to make his way. With the habit, a person of only ordinary abilities would outstrip one of greater talents who is in the habit of slighting subordinate matters.

But, after all, the mere adoption by a young man of this great essential rule of success shows him to be possessed of superior abilities.—True Citizen.

NO CHILDHOOD.—A fashion writer moralizes as follows: "Apropos of simplicity of dressing for children, jewelry, except a chain and locket, is tabooed, no more corals, or amulets or ear-rings for a girl under twelve or fourteen; the children are to be children, and not to be allowed to grow blase before they reach long dresses. This "fussing up" of children seems always to be such a mistake; they exhaust everything before they arrive at an age when they can properly appreciate it. I remember once going to Thomas' Central Park Garden, and a party in which was a child only four or five years of age occupied the table in the concert room next to that at which our party was seated. This little miss was arrayed in an elaborately embroidered muslin dress, worn over a pink silk slip, her hose were flesh colored silk, and her boots white kid; she had three-buttoned white kid gloves, and on one finger she wore a diamond ring; she had solitaire diamonds in her ears, bracelets on her arms, her sash was pinned with an elegant gold pin, and a diamond held the lace ruche about the little throat. There she sat, with all the assurance of a young lady in society, sipping lager out of her pony glass and wiping her lips with a lace-bordered handkerchief. How I pitied that child, who was being defrauded of her childhood, the most careless, merriest part of a lifetime! I wanted to take off her finery, put her into a brown-holland frock, and set her to making mud-pies; then, when she got tired out, give her a jolly bath, a brimming cup of milk, and put her in bed. What in the world had that child to look forward to? A life of shame, dating from her babyhood. There would be nothing new for her when she should reach her young lady-hood, and no happy childish memories for her to look back upon. A life without any babyhood or childhood, the most pathetic of all lives! whether it be poverty or fashion which robs it, it is to be pitied alike."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The next book of the "No Name" series, "WILL DENBIGH, NOBLEMAN," will appear from the press of Roberts Brothers about the middle of this month, and Mrs. M. W. Tileston's "Sursum Corda," a collection of poems for the sick and suffering, will be issued at the same date. After "Will Denbigh," about the middle of November, will come in the same series, "Mirage," by the author of "Kismet." Like that, it will be a novel founded upon a story of Syrian travel. Macmillan of London will publish it simultaneously with its appearance here.

CHORUS CHOIR INSTRUCTION BOOK, by A. N. Johnson; published by Oliver Ditson & Co. The author of this book has had a valuable experience; first, as one of the leading choir leaders and music teachers of Boston, and second, during a number of years as teacher of musical Normal Schools and so-called Musical Conventions in the Middle and Western States. His book is an admirable Manual or book of directions for the proper training of Singing Classes, Choirs, and of all bodies of singers singing in chorus. The directions are minute and exhaustive, and are given in so simple language that a child could easily master the whole subject. But as to the contents: After some pages of plain talk in the way of introduction, the Elements commence, each point being fully explained, and all instruction reviewed by printed questions. The former bugbear of singing schools, where the "transposition of the scale" is passed over. Next we have 31 pages of pretty airs, progressively arranged for practice. Next come 184 pages of Metrical Tunes, Anthems, Spiritual Songs, Sabbath School Tunes, etc., all of good quality, selected and arranged with reference to the drill of the class or chorus. Also these contain secular pieces. The last 30 pages contain the peculiar [illegible] of the author's "School" of teaching. There is a luminous treatise on "The Art of Conducting," another on the "Natural Art of Singing," and another on "The Chorus Cultivation of the Voice," with excellent rules and exercises. There is also a ready made programme of a public exhibition, and the very practical musical "Words of Command" which are sure to carry a class on to victory. For sale at Durén's.

THE HAYES-GARFIELD LETTER.

[From the Boston Traveller.]

The Traveller yesterday printed the following copy of a letter which was somewhat in controversy several months ago:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, D. C., March 11, 1877.

My Dear General:—In accordance with our conversation last evening, I hereby express in writing what I said verbally then. It is my desire that you should withdraw from the Senatorial contest in Ohio, for the reason that I think you could be of more service to the country and to the Administration in the House of Representatives. I regard your chances of election as Speaker as excellent, or I should not ask you to make this sacrifice, and you may be assured that whatever I can do to accomplish it will be heartily done.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) R. B. HAYES.

To General J. A. Garfield.

It is noticeable by readers of city newspapers that neither the Advertiser, the Journal nor the Transcript has printed this letter. It is noticeable and widely remarked upon because it is a significant fact that journals pretending to be newspapers omit to print or mention one of the most remarkable and important letters that ever emanated from the President of the United States. Why did they not print it?

A bit of history will illuminate this point. When the report was first published that such a letter had been written, the Traveller and other Republican newspapers denounced this act of the President as very improper interference in politics for the purpose of elevating such a man as Stanley Matthews into an office for which he was not qualified, and which he would use merely to gratify his ambition for political mischief. The act was especially improper as a violation of the President's own professions of political morality, for it was, plainly, a bargain entered into for the purpose of promoting political and personal advantage, and without reference to the public good. The Advertiser, the Journal and the Transcript took another course. They maintained, by turns, either that the reported letter was an entire forgery or that it was a garbled copy, but that in any event the President had not exceeded his legitimate duties. Now comes the veritable letter to face these apologizing organs, and it strikes them dumb. They dare not print it, and thus expose their own mistakes of judgment or wilful misrepresentations. They dare not tell the truth, and thus damage their political idol. They dare not give their readers a knowledge of an act so reprehensible, that, had Gen. Grant committed it, he would have had the whole pack of reformers barking at his heels for it until the day of his death. But if thus early in the collapse of the policy the organs have got to conceal the truth, what will they do when it comes in a deluge? It is coming.

RIFTS OF LIGHT.

With the assembling of Congress the troubles and perplexities of the "policy organs" are beginning in earnest. Rose-colored editorials will no longer serve, now that the Solid South appears in Washington with the cloven-foot unconcealed; and papers which make any pretence of publishing despatches from the National Capital, cannot prevent the intrusion of occasional rifts of light that show up the points and workings of the "policy" in a very picturesque manner. Here are two despatches from the Boston Journal's "specials" on successive days:

THE DEMOCRATIC PRIVILEGE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. The caucus nominations last night show that the Southern Democrats "mean business." They carried out their programme without a hitch and are now sure of a favorable consideration of all the schemes for depleting the Treasury that they may introduce. Patterson, the New Jersey man, who reorganized the Doorkeeper's department after it had been demoralized by Fitzhugh, that "bigger man than old Grant," was unceremoniously shelved to make a place for Mr. Polk, one of the chivalrous sons of Missouri. Chaplain Townsend, who like a good Episcopalian would persist in reading the morning prayer for the President of the United States, has to give way to Rev. Dr. Poiser, a Baltimorean of the Southern Methodist Church. In short, the House of Representatives has been organized exactly as a large majority of the Southern members desired, and those Southerners who had little ambitious projects of their own found few supporters.

THE REPUBLICAN PHASE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. Whatever other Republicans may think, it is already evident that the President's views on civil service and his Southern speeches on the relative positions of the Federal and Confederate soldiers do not meet with approval among Republican Congressmen at either end of the Capitol. There are no manifestations of a desire to hamper the President or to antagonize his views, but a wish is expressed that he might change some of his constitutional advisers and modify his views. Should the New York Republicans under the lead of Mr. Conkling, and with the Rochester platform, carry that State, it will consolidate many of those whose discontent is now faintly expressed.

The Portland Press says that Neal Dow was called to the station house Saturday night to confront a man who alleged that they drank brandy and water together on board the steamer Massachusetts recently. After some questioning he explained that he drank the brandy and Mr. Dow the water.

It is said that Patterson will vote for admitting Hamburg Butler to the Senate to conciliate the Hamptonites, who are pushing the prosecutions against him.

The Harpers had better call Nast back to his post before Mr. Curtis makes their paper a laughing-stock. The cartoons last week illustrating Mr. Curtis' hobbies and his personal spites were not only silly, but offensive. Mr. Curtis has made havoc enough with the principles of the paper without permitting him to have his nonsense illustrated.

The new Administration organ, run by John Lynch, Geo. F. Talbot and others, publishes an editorial referring to Senator Blaine, which comprises about equal parts of flattery and the "reform" style of political black-mail, suggesting how nice it would be for him to come out in support of the President's policy, and winding up with a slur about the malicious assault upon him in the House, which is palpably intended as a threat. If these callow organists think they can wheedle or bully the junior Senator from Maine they are likely to discover too late that they are barking up the wrong tree.

The N. Y. Tribune copies this jingle from the Burlington Hawkeye:

We had a little policy,
It was our joy and pride;
Ohio went and sat on it,
And so it early died.
Gone to meet Andrew Johnson.

WHAT SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS MEAN.

[From the New York Times.]

WHY THEY "INDORSE" THE PRESIDENT'S SOUTHERN POLICY—IT'S ONLY TO DIVIDE THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND REGAIN CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT.

If any Northern Republican, not wilfully blind, fails to see what the Democrats, and especially the Southern ex-rebel portion of the Democratic party, mean when they say they "accept" and "indorse" the Southern policy of President Hayes, the following brief extract from a speech delivered by Hon. Thomas W. Bocock of Virginia, at Lynchburg on the 8th inst., may serve to open his eyes. We quote from the Lynchburg Virginian's report. He said:

"I, like Col. Withers, am a firm member of the Conservative party. Like him I think Mr. Tilden was defeated by fraud of the Presidency, but I regard with extreme gratification the surprising fact that Mr. Hayes is marching straight forward in carrying out Democratic principles, and while he continues to do so I think we should sustain him. Our true policy is to put a wedge in the Republican party and split it. They understand this danger, and therefore, in my opinion, the Republicans rejoice at the cry of 'a solid South' because they can make that an appeal to the passions and prejudices of the North. Mr. Greeley said to me, two years before his death, in a conversation at St. Louis, that he was disappointed in the working of the great scheme of his life, the emancipation of the slaves. He said the miserable men who had come down South to prey upon the people had disgusted him. We took Mr. Greeley as our candidate for President because of his liberal sentiments toward the South, and we did right. We made great headway by that course. If we had then insisted on a Southern man, any one except a liberal Northern man as Greeley, we should have seen the Republican party sweep the country and install Mr. Hayes by a real and not a fraudulent majority.—History reaches the wisdom of dividing the army of the enemy. See the case of John Tyler. When he made overtures to the Democrats, did they reject him? No, they said come along, and at the next election, with little James Polk, they swept the country and defeated the great Harry of the West. English history illustrates the same. For 40 years the Tory party held sway, but Canning, an old Tory, recognized the advance of Whig principles. The Whig party, with Russell, took him by the hand and the Whigs came into power. And so of Hayes. I wish you people could have heard the eulogy which his Secretary of State, Mr Evarts, when in Lynchburg, passed upon Virginia, her glorious history, her illustrious statesmen, her eminent lawyers. He said Virginia had been recognized by the North as the head of the Union, and he predicted that we should yet live to see her the head of the Union again. When I saw Hayes standing on the Democratic platform I said to myself that is my platform and those are my old principles. If Hayes adopts our principles, are we to discard them for that reason? Hayes has broken the back of the Republican party in Virginia. One of them told me the other day that he never was much of a Republican. The principles of the Conservative party are too strongly imbedded in our affections for us to dream for a moment of discarding them. Why, nobody deserts a ship that sails the waters, but it is the sinking ship that rats desert. There is Thurman, the staunch old Democrat. He says Hayes has espoused his principles. There is the gallant Hampton, and Gordon, who slept at the church at Appomattox, ready to offer himself on Virginia soil; and there was Gov. Colquitt, who welcomed Hayes at Atlanta. And here to-day the gallant, noble Withers puts himself on the same platform which I occupy."

Says the N. Y. Times: Sectionalism being a thing of the past, (as they would fain have loyal Northerners believe,) the Mobile (Ala.) Register calls upon the Southern Congressmen to urge upon the President the propriety of selecting a Southern man, in the true sense of the word, for the vacant seat on the bench of the Supreme Court.

At the request of Gov. McCreary and others, Dr. Luke P. Blackburn, of Louisville, has gone to Fernandina, Fla., to care for the yellow fever sufferers, his experience and skill in the treatment of the disease being very great.—Ex.

We presume this is the brother of Congressman Blackburn, and the man who acquired infamous notoriety by his attempt, as an agent of the Confederacy, to create epidemics in the North by distributing clothing infected by yellow fever patients.

The Democrats were unable to control their whole vote Tuesday for so flagrant a violation of all rules as the proposal to refuse admission to the colored members holding regular credentials. The cases will go to the election committee, however, and after making a show of fairness the Democrats who voted to let the colored South Carolinians be sworn in will be ready to vote for a report turning them out.

Postmaster Filley, of St. Louis, is accused of the high crime of actively aiding the Republican ticket in that city, and an indignant individual has already laid the charges before the President, who was profoundly impressed by the gravity of the offence and promised to investigate Filley at once. The Administration is determined that the disposition of postmasters to show an individual preference for the Republican party must be reformed at all hazards.

Speaking of Robert E. Lee, the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle of Oct. 13th says: "His countrymen have emerged from the meshes of their enemies and wrung from them power which they never dreamed of possessing in 1860."

The Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer calls upon the Southern Congressmen to "insist upon the repeal of the test oath. The statute, it says, is "an insult to the entire Southern country."

Wade Hampton modestly sent a protest against the seating of Representative Rainey on the ground that at the time of the election South Carolina was under a reign of terror caused by the presence of United States troops! Hampton must be a policy man.

So it seems that the "conciliation" and "civil service" policies are to be amalgamated. The Boston Advertiser's special says:

To conciliate General Arthur for his removal from the Collectorship, he is to be made Consul-General at Paris. There are one hundred and forty-three applications for this position.

The Journal's special intimates that the "conciliation" is intended to go beyond Mr. Arthur. It says:

It is stated on excellent authority that General Arthur is to be appointed Consul-General at Paris. If this appointment is made it will probably conciliate Arthur in part for his removal from the Collectorship of New York. Senator Conkling is the special champion of Arthur.

Senator Bayard expects that Messrs. Spofford, Eustis and Butler will all be seated. He says that "Butler's case has been prejudiced by the misfortune of his name, which has confounded him in public opinion with one Tom Butler, who was no relation, and for whose action in the Ellenton riots General Butler was in no wise responsible.—Special to the Boston Journal.

We believe there was a little transaction known as the Hamburg massacre, in which Gen. M. C. Butler figured too prominently to be able to unload his odium upon any convenient "Tom." It was a cowardly, cold-blooded butchery of defenceless men, it would be atrocious to admit the leader in that infamy to a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Ordinance for the Regulation of Plumbing.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Bangor as follows:

Sec. 1. No plumbing shall hereafter be done on any pipes or fixtures for the use of water from the City Water Works unless by a Plumber licensed by the Water Board of said City. Said Board are authorized to grant and revoke licenses.

Sec. 2. Every Plumber who shall set up any pipes or fixtures for the use of water from said City Water Works, or shall make repairs upon, additions to, or alterations of, any pipes or fixtures set up previous thereto, shall, between the first and tenth day of the succeeding month, fill up and return to said Board a report, stating particularly what new pipes and fixtures he has set up the next previous month, and what repairs, additions and alterations he has made upon or to, those previously set up.

Sec. 3. For every misrepresentation or omission in the report of the work done said plumber shall be liable to have his license revoked by said Board and to pay a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered in an action of debt in the name of the City Treasurer, before the Police Court of said City.

Sec. 4. If any plumber or person not duly licensed, shall set up any pipes or fixtures for the use of water from the water works of said City, or make any repairs upon, additions to, or alterations of any pipes or fixtures previously thereto set up, he shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint, or in an action of debt in the name of the City Treasurer, before the Police Court of said City.

Sec. 5. This Ordinance shall be promulgated by publishing the same one week, with the date of the final passage, in the two daily papers published in said City, and shall take effect on the day succeeding the last publication.

At a meeting of the City Council of said Bangor held on the 9th day of October inst. the foregoing Ordinance received a final passage by concurrent action of both branches of said Council.

Attest: VICTOR BRETT, City Clerk.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS—Special Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Oct 17

Mr Beck introduced a bill authorizing the payment of 50 per cent of the customs duties in legal tender notes. Referred to the committee on finance

Mr. Thurman presented the credentials of Henry M. Spofford, Senator for Louisiana for six years from March 4, 1877, and asked that they be read and Spofford now be sworn in. The credentials having been read Mr Mitchell moved as a substitute for Thurman's motion that the credentials be referred to the committee on elections. Quite a lengthy discussion on points of order followed. Finally Edwards appealed to Thurman to let the subject lie over until to-morrow. Thurman replied after he had said a word in regard to the rules of the Senate referred to during the debate that he would consent, as he had no desire to force a Senator to vote if he was not ready to do so

Mr Anthony presented a petition of the Mayor and citizens of Providence in favor of increasing the compensation of letter carriers. Similar petitions from various parts of the country were presented by Ferry Cameron, Conkling, Wallace and others. Referred to the Post Office Committee

Mr Edmunds submitted the following resolution which was laid over until to-morrow, at the request of Bayard

Resolved That a select committee of seven Senators be appointed whose duty it shall be to take into consideration the date of the laws respecting ascertaining and the declaration of the result of the election of President and Vice President of the United States and that said committee have power to report by bill or otherwise

After the motion of Mr Thurman to have Spofford sworn was laid over until to-morrow Edmunds moved that the committee of elections to be discharged from further consideration of the credentials of Wm Pitt Kellogg as Senator from Louisiana. Laid over until to-morrow at the request of Thurman. McCreery introduced a bill respecting the bankrupt law. Tabled

After executive session at 2 30 the doors were opened and the Senate adjourned till to-morrow

House

The House proceeded to the consideration of the disputed election case from the 4th District of Louisiana, the question being upon the resolution offered by Leonard referring the claims of [illegible] and Smith to the Committee on Elections to decide who has a prima facie right to a seat

Mr Gibson of Louisiana, offered a substitute for the resolution providing for the immediate swearing in of Mr. Elam. After debate the substitute was adopted—141 to 119. Mr Elam appeared at the bar of the House and took a modified oath

Mr Frye offered a resolution reciting that Charles F Nash had presented a certificate of election signed by Governor Kellogg, the then duly recognized acting Governor of Louisiana but that the Clerk of the House had declined to place Nash's name on the roll of members but had substituted J H W Robertson on authority of a paper signed by Governor Nicholls and directing that the name of Robertson be struck off the roll and Nash be sworn in

After the debate a substitute was offered by Ellis of La that Robertson be now sworn in which was agreed to and the oath of office modified form was administered to Robertson

The case of Pacheco of Cal, was then called up when Mr Garfield of O moved that the oath of office be administered to Pacheco

Mr Springer of Ill who had made objection on Monday offered to withdraw it, but the Speaker ruled that as the objection was on record it must be acted on

Mr Garfield stated that the question of the election had been carried into the courts and [illegible] on an appeal to the Supreme Court of the State that court a majority of whose members were Democrats) had found that Pacheco was legally elected and under that finding the Governor had given him a legal certificate [illegible] that [illegible] right to be sworn [illegible] not only prima facie but absolutely [illegible]

Mr [illegible] denied the accuracy of Mr Garfield's statement as to a majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court being Demo[crats]

Mr Garfield—[illegible] the Judges who acted on the question belong to your party at that time

Mr [illegible]—A majority of the Judges were elected in opposition to the Democratic majority

Mr Garfield—That does not answer my question

Mr Cox of New York read a written statement embracing the facts in the case claiming that by the altering of one vote [illegible] the election had been given to Pacheco. In conclusion he said it was [illegible] to steal a railroad or the Presidency

Mr Springer remarked that he had objected to the swearing in of Pacheco. [illegible] examination of the papers presented to the clerk he did not see how the clerk could have done otherwise than put Pacheco's name on the list. Still he would call attention to the fact that although the certificate was regular on its face, it was based on a forged election return from the county of Monterey [illegible] in that connection [illegible] to the clerk's desk and had read an extract from Black's article on the Electoral Commission to show that fraud vitiates everything

Mr Garfield—While it is true that fraud vitiates everything, it is not true that the allegation of fraud vitiates anything

Mr Garfield's motion was agreed to without division, and the oath of office [illegible] the Iron Clad was thereupon administered to Pacheco. Pacheco then desired to make some statement but was informed by the Speaker the question had been disposed of

The Election—The Government's Gigantic Efforts to Win—Another Contest Coming

LONDON, Oct 17. A despatch from Paris says "The country has spoken very clearly. After five months of unheard of pressure fewer than 40 seats have been gained by the government, and these chiefly through local influences. The Republicans have been made compact and stronger by the mission given them by France. They have a majority of 1[illegible]. There is not a Chamber in Europe containing such a majority. The people are amazed when they consider the resolution and energy the electors must have had to bring about such a result despite the pressure which, according to competent witnesses, did as much in three days as the Empire did in 20 years. What will the government do confronted by such an overwhelming result no one knows yet, but they seem decided on again using their formidable administration machine to influence the election of the 1300 concellers d'arrandissement and concellers generaux fixed for the 4th of November, that is to say, three days before the meeting of the Chamber. It was to manage these elections that the crime of the 16th of May was committed. They are of enormous importance. The concellers, together with the delegates of the municipalities, are the electors of the Senate, and as a third of the Senate retire early in 1879, if that election returns a Republican majority the monarchical parties would deem themselves lost forever, and therefore the present Cabinet is going to make fresh and gigantic efforts if it remains in power till the 5th of November. At any rate that is all that can be predicted. It may resign on the 5th or 6th."

A telegram from Paris has the following "An official communique has been issued contradicting the rumors of the resignation of the Ministry. It points out that for the present at least the Ministers must necessarily remain in office

Mukhtar Pasha's Army Defeated—An Important Movement

NEW YORK, Oct 17 A special from Kurjul Armenia, states that Gen Lazareff with 27 battalions of infantry and 40 guns began a flank movement from here toward the southwest, against Mukhtar Pasha's position. The troops were marched behind Aladja Dagh to Awlis hill and Vezin Kel. General Lazareff sent a message last night to the Grand Duke Michael, from the village of Dazardjik, that Ghazi, the victorious Mukhtar Pasha was there with a superior force. Thereupon, on the morning of the 15th the Russians began an attack on the Turkish position making a serious assault on Awlis hill and redoubts at Kamand, in the centre of the Turkish position—an artillery engagement in which only shrapnels were used at short range, with terrible execution. At noon the Circassian grenadiers under General Heyman, stormed Awlias hill and redoubt with great success. The Turkish position was captured together with three Krupp guns—the Turks [illegible] defended the works [illegible] overwhelmed by the Russians. The Turks now [illegible] retreat [illegible] and were sharply pursued everywhere. They abandoned great quantities of arms. The Fourth [illegible] Regiment occupied Aladja Dagh and captured the Turkish camp. The Turks retreated in great disorder in three directions [illegible] westerly, southerly and southeasterly being cut off in the rear from Kars. The number killed and wounded is unknown but the Turks suffered severely in the retreat. This is only the beginning of important offensive operations which may end in the crushing of Mukhtar's army

The Defeat Thoroughly Disastrous.

LONDON Oct 17 According to Russian official bulletins not only was Mukhtar Pasha decisively defeated Monday but the Turkish army utterly destroyed. As made out from these despatches the following was the position of the forces and source of the actions. The Russians occupied positions on the Yagni Hills Sirbatan and Kl[illegible] except that the Turks retained Little Yagni, which is southeast of Great Yagni. On the 14th inst, the Turkish left rested on Little Yagni, the centre on Awlis [illegible] or Olya Tepe and their right on Aladja Dagh where the divisions were strongly fortified. Olya Tepe is a spur or hill midway between Yagni and Aladja about 15 miles east by south from Kars. Besides these positions the Turks occupied several strong places such as Arlok and Vezin Kel in the rear of their line for the protection of their army and Kars from a flank attack

Sunday the Russian left having been extended to the banks of the Arpachai beyond the Ani division under Gen Lazareff moved south of Aladja Dagh drove the Turks from Arlok upon Vezinkol and Kars and occupied Arlok thus completely turning Mukhtar's right

On the morning of Monday the 15th [illegible] bombardment was directed against Olya Tepe which was the key to the Turkish position. In the afternoon Gen Heymann with about 10 000 infantry carried Olya Tepe by assault, cutting the Turkish army in two. The centre and left wing under Mukhtar himself, retreated upon Kars pursued by Heymann and harassed in the flank by Lazareff but succeeded in gaining cover of the fortifications of Kars after a fearful rout during which he lost a great number in killed, wounded and several thousand prisoners and four guns. Three divisions constituting the Turkish right, had in the meantime been surrounded, attacked and driven from their fortified positions with great loss. Finally at 9 o'clock Monday night the remnant of this portion of Mukhtar's army surrendered with 32 guns and a great quantity of material. Among the captured are seven Pashas. Mukhtar Pasha is in Kars. The Russian losses are relatively slight

MUTINY

The Leader Shot—The Vessel taken to London

LONDON, Oct 17 The crew of the American ship New World, of New York from this port, mutinied yesterday when off Morehight. The captain shot the leader of the mutiny dead and the mate wounded another of the crew. The British Marines boarded and brought the vessel back to London. U S Minister Pierrepont was communicated with and he claimed the British marines had no right to bring the vessel to London, she being at the time of the mutiny on the high seas

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE Last evening there was an alarm of fire at about half-past ten o'clock and the department quickly responded, but there was the same confusion in finding the fire that always has prevailed and always will prevail until we have some kind of a fire alarm. Some of the boys were fortunate enough to ascertain where the fire was, but a large proportion of the department went across the bridge, through Franklin street, and up Harlow street and were going back to their quarters when they learned that the fire was on Washington street in a building owned by Charles Stetson, Esq, and occupied by Barney Kelley and Dexter Andrews. The fire was discovered by Amos Colson, night watchman at the Exchange street depot. It is not known just how the fire originated, but it is thought it must have started around the forges in the ax factory and run along under the floor into Andrews' oar factory, where it ignited a pile of shavings. The damages will be very light.

PENOBSCOT MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

Second Day.

The first part of the session in the morning, was devoted by Professor Davis to an interesting and profitable presentation of the general rules which should govern those who would become good singers, and have or give enjoyment in the art. Valuable instruction was given in reference to the clear and proper rendering of the vowel sounds, the preservation of the voice, and the use and abuse of the vocal organs. The importance of these points was clearly presented. Several questions proposed by the class were answered felicitously

The afternoon session was occupied by rehearsals of choruses and glees, the directing being divided between Profs. Davis and Chillus

During a recess Mrs C B Robbins of Dexter sung in a very clear and pleasing manner the song "Sing sweet bird" by Ganz

The piano solo by Professor Chillus, rendered with so much acceptance on Tuesday evening, was a composition by Prof C arranged from the Opera of "Lucia di Lammermoor" by Donizetti

In the absence of three members of the nominating committee Messrs [illegible] of Milo, D A Sargent of Brewer and [illegible] of Carmel were appointed to fill the vacancies

During the evening in connection with the choruses rendered solos were sung by Miss Hawes of Skowhegan, Mrs Robbins of Dexter, Mr Tilley of East Bangor [illegible] and Mr Roberts of Bangor. [At] the close of the rehearsal, Prof Chillus favored those who remained with brilliant piano forte selections

The first Matinee will be held this afternoon at four o'clock in the City Hall

The first concert this evening at half past seven o'clock, under the direction of Prof Davis. Pianist Mrs Davenport. The following are the programmes

Chorus and Hymn tunes. Glee chorus "Hail of Paradise" (Otto). Song by Mr W J Patten. Trio Mrs Crowell Mrs Butler and Mr F. L Crowell. Chorus, [illegible] Cantata Song by J H Haynes. Violin solo by Mr. McQuown. Chorus with solos by Mrs Robbins of Dexter and Mr S D Tilley of East Bangor

Evening—Pilgrims Chorus from "Lombardi" Verdi. Song Mrs W H Shaw. Selection by Penobscot Quartette. Piano Solo, left hand piece, by Prof H P Chillus. Chillus. Song by Mr G S Farrington "The watcher" Gelbal. Song by Miss Bella Bartlett. Anthem "He watching over Israel" from "Elijah" Mendelssohn. Chorus "Shady Groves for love and beauty" St Cecilias Day

The [illegible] commences this morning at [9] o'clock. During the forenoon Professor Davis will continue his familiar method lecture, on many points which will be of value to all singers

Tickets for the Matinee and concerts may be procured at the Book and Music store and at the Hall

A Report of this Season's Operation at the Corinth Cheese Factory

Mr Editor. As this is the time when [the] factories throughout the State are sending in their accounts of the season's operations we take this opportunity to send you a statement of the doings of ours, and do so with the more pleasure because [illegible] proud of the success of our factory and elated with the certainty of having a good dividend from a successful season's work

Operations for the season of 1877 opened May 10th and closed October 1[illegible], making the total number of days run one hundred and forty three. The smallest number of pounds of milk received in one day [illegible]7, largest number of pounds received in one day [illegible] number of pounds received for each month—May 15 5[illegible]4, June [illegible]7[illegible], July, [illegible] 329 August 90 100 September [illegible] October 7 [illegible] total number of pounds received for the season [illegible] 547. Smallest number of cheese made in one day, 1, largest number made in one day 11, number made in each month—May 46 June, 260; July, 273 August 108, September, 180, October, 20, total number made for the season, 987. Average weight of cheese when made about fifty two pounds. Total weight of cheese, 51 000 pounds, number of cheese sold, 317, number on hand 670, average price received per pound for cheese, 12 cents. The quality of our cheese this year is most excellent and gives the best satisfaction wherever sold. One wholesale dealer in Portland who has bought large quantities of it, thinks it will compare favorably with that made by any other factory in Maine. Mr George Young, who has had charge of the factory this season deserves great praise for his skill and success, not having lost a single cheese from any cause, nor made a poor flavored one, thus demonstrating the fact that we have no occasion to go out of our own State for the very best of cheese makers

SINGULAR BUT SERIOUS ACCIDENT. Mr John Farrar, of this town, came very near losing his life last Saturday under the following circumstances. He was plowing with a pair of three-years old steers, and when the horn sounded for dinner he stepped in between them to unhitch them from the plow, but before he could accomplish his purpose they became frightened at something and started off across the lot at a fearful rate. Mr. Farrar clinging to the yoke with a firm hold, this being the only chance for his life, for if he had let go the yoke he would have come in contact with the plow and been instantly killed. He was dragged nearly twice across a five acre field before he got away from the maddened animals. It is a great wonder that he escaped death. He was terribly bruised by the heavy draft chain striking him, as the plow to which it was attached swung and bounced over rocks and stumps, and he will not be able to do much for a long time

ETNA TOWN FAIR

A FINE EXHIBITION—AWARDS OF PREMIUMS

[Reported for Whig and Courier]

The seventh annual town fair was held at the Etna Hall, Tuesday Oct [illegible], and every department of agriculture was well represented together with almost every [illegible] article from the splendid carpet made by Mrs. Joseph S Rundlett down to the little needle work of the child of five years, [illegible] of [illegible] work [illegible] flowers [illegible] the committee [illegible] articles [illegible] any report from them and we have to make our own [illegible] mention of Miss C A Jewett, Mrs W Friend, Miss Myra Dyer, Miss Ella M Sanborn, Miss Sadie F Brown, Miss Ada L Smith, Miss [illegible] Miss Eva J Bell, Miss M A [illegible] Miss Bertie Mosely, Miss Lula Searle, Bert Dyer and more than sixty others who are entitled to the same credit and equal honors, whom we should be glad to [illegible] who they were but unfortunately we do not

The table in the Hall reserved for plants flowers [illegible] was splendidly decorated [illegible] almost endless variety and what attracted the most attention was a rural pot, so called, with some fifty different [kinds] of plants all growing and in blossom presented by Mrs C O Brown

Nearly all of the ladies in town had some thing [illegible] and [illegible] happy over their needs

The next exhibition [illegible] was the [illegible] [illegible] the first [illegible] [illegible] the second premium [illegible] to C O [illegible] who [illegible] with [illegible] with Otis [illegible] and [illegible] the smallest pro[illegible] [illegible] filled with thirty two ap[ples] [illegible] Hall [illegible] [illegible] Brown [illegible] third [illegible] was awarded to Boynton [illegible] who had fifteen varieties fully equal to both of the other [illegible] different varieties. Then came Mrs A M Stuart with a large fruit dish filled with two varieties which were truly the handsomest of all. Then came C. Buswell with three varieties of seedlings which look very promising for an extensive cultivator [illegible] came Otis Friend [illegible] with a basket of Florist Beauty pears which fairly beat [illegible] the committee were fairly willing to believe that they grew in Maine but the proof was present. M J Philbrook exhibited a plate of grapes which we think had to come to [illegible] the lingering in order to know how good they were

The following awards were made

Farm Produce—Corn first premium Otis C Friend, second S P Dennett, third Edwin Sylvester

Potatoes—First premium, [illegible] and S H Friend, second H H D Smith, third, C O Brown

The above three hauled out twenty acres

There was one squash presented by L H [illegible] M Sylvester which girted the smallest way four feet and nine inches and the weight marked on it was one hundred and seventy [illegible] and three quarters pounds

Beets.—Kitridge Friend and John Fogg carried off the victory on beets one of which weighed fourteen pounds and twelve ounces, that looked like a prairie stump that grew where there was no bottom and girted twenty three inches

Turnips and Cabbages were in keeping with the beets. They grew to a very [illegible] reasonable size. Some wondered how they were got there. If any one wants to know they must enquire of A R Sylvester J M Carter and B A Shaw

On Neat Stock.—First premium on three years old steers Columbus Buswell, second H C Friend, third B C Friend

On two years old steers first premium W Carleton, second A M Stuart, third, B. Stuart

On one year old steers—First premium, B A Shaw, second, B Stuart, third R Sanborn

Sheep—First premium A J Friend second D Buswell, third, G Woodcock

Swine—First premium, B Wheeler, second, O C Friend, third premium on sow and pigs S H Friend

Charles O Brown had one on the ground that girted six feet, two inches and in length was six feet, four inches, and two feet nine inches across the back.

Poultry—James C Rundlett and Aaron Brawn had it all their own way.

Mules—James E Wakefield and Judson W Barden had some splendid two years old, but no committee on them

The whole fair was a splendid success and everybody was satisfied, and went home believing Maine could take care of herself.

[illegible] estimate made Etna has eight [hundre]d and seventy five acres of potatoes [illegible] and twelve acres of wheat [illegible] acres of corn, and has raised six [hundred a]nd fifty bushels of beans

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, Guardian of Wilbert W. Betts, minor heir of Calista H. Betts, late of Hampden, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said minor is seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz: the late homestead of said Calista, situate in said Hampden, being a lot of three acres, with house and barn, near Crosby's paper mills, it being the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County.

That it would be for the benefit of said minor that said real estate should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or otherwise used for his benefit.

He therefore prays that license may be granted him to sell and convey the above described real estate at public or private sale according to the requirements of law.

BEST BOOKS for SINGING SCHOOLS

Chorus Choir Instruction Book.

By A. N. JOHNSON. Just Out. Contains the system of this celebrated teacher, so minutely and plainly described that it is the easiest and best Manual for Teachers and Leaders, and is also a most entertaining, useful and thorough book for all Music Classes and Conventions, with the plain course of plain instructions, and 260 pages of the best music, graded from the easiest to the most difficult, and continually referred to. The book also best answers that perplexing question, "How to have good singing in Congregations?" $1 25, or $12 00 per doz.

THE ENCORE. By L. O. EMERSON. This fine book has already been used by thousands, who have had but one opinion as to its admirable collection of Sacred Music, of Glees, Quartets, Trios, Duets, Songs, &c., for practice. It is a capital Glee Book as well as Singing Class Book. Thorough Instructive Course. 75 cts., or $7 50 per doz.

PERKINS' SINGING SCHOOL. By W. O. PERKINS. This, like the "Encore," is an excellent Glee Book as well as Singing School Book, and will be a fine book for Conventions and for easy practice in Choirs and Societies. Good instructive course, and the best of music. 75 cts., or $6 75 per doz.

All teachers and convention holders are invited to insure their success this season by using one of these books. For sale everywhere. Copies sent post free by mail, for retail price.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 6 to 6½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $32.50 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

FIRST CLASS.

All Letters must be Prepaid.—Letters for the Mails in the United States, three cents the half ounce or single rate. City letters, two cents half ounce or single rate.

SECOND CLASS.

Newspapers.

All regular newspapers must be prepaid at the office of publication, at the rate of two cents per pound for each issue on weekly papers or those published oftener than once a week, less frequently than once a week, three cents. The same law applies to dealers.

County papers free, except to letter carrier offices, the papers coming to this office, if published in County, are subject to postage. Daily papers published in County, if delivered by carrier, one cent each, to be prepaid by stamps.

Postage to Canada.—Same as in the States on letters and papers, pre-payment compulsory, merchandise limited to 8 oz., postage 10 cents.

THIRD CLASS.

TRANSIENT PRINTED MATTER AND BOOKS AND MERCHANDISE.

One Cent for Two Ounces.

Almanacs, books (printed), calendars, catalogues, corrected proofs, hand bills, magazines, maps—lithographed or engraved—music, printed sheets, newspapers, occasional publications, pamphlets, posters, proof sheets, prospectuses.

One cent for each ounce.

Blank books, blank cards, book manuscripts, card boards and other flexible materials, chromo lithographs, circulars, engravings, envelopes, flexible patterns, letter envelopes, letter paper, lithographed merchandise, models, ornamental paper, postal cards when sent in bulk and not addressed, photographic views, photograph paper, printed blanks, printed cards, sample cards, samples of ores, metals, minerals and merchandise, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions, stereoscopic views.

All packages of matter of third class must be so wrapped or enveloped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily and thoroughly examined by postmasters without destroying the wrappers.

The sender of a package of third class matter may write his or her name on the wrapper with the word "from," but nothing more, without subjecting the whole to letter postage.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All letters remaining in the office are advertised on Monday of each week. If not claimed in one month thereafter, they are then forwarded to the Dead Letter office.

MONEY ORDERS.

Especial attention is called to the Money Order system, as a safe and cheap method of transmitting small sums through the mails. Orders are issued in sums of not more than fifty dollars. Larger amounts can be transmitted to the same person, at the same time, by additional orders.

RATES.

On orders not exceeding $15, 10 cents.
" over $15 and not exceeding $30, 15 cents.
" over $30 and not exceeding $40, 20 cents.
" over $40 and not exceeding $50, 25 cents.

Money Orders can also be obtained on England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Switzerland and German states.

Never put Money in a Letter—Always Procure a Money Order.

If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If upon points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be Registered. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Office Hours—From A. M. to 6 P. M.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

All valuable letters should be Registered, unless a Money Order is obtained. Under the present system of Registration, letters are transmitted with perfect safety.

Letters may be Registered by paying postage in full, and a Registration fee in stamps, for—
United States, 10 cents.
Great Britain and Ireland, and all Countries having a postal treaty with the United States, 10 cents.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH,

IS UNIVERSALLY RECOMMENDED.

We have just received a communication from nearly every druggist in New England and the West, and the testimony is universally in favor of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. We believe there never was a remedy so popular wherever known, and certainly we feel that never was one more deserving of praise. Founded upon correct scientific principles, and calculated by the most accomplished physicians to meet the several forms of Catarrh, the cures made by it have not only been numerous, but so remarkable as to excite public attention and cause the sale to exceed tenfold that of any similar remedy ever before compounded.

While many are anxious to make public their testimony in favor of the Radical Cure, others—and among this number may be found many of our most respected citizens—dislike to be publicly identified with so loathsome a disease. Hence, in the following case we are unable to give the name, but are permitted to refer those who may call upon us personally to him, and to state the severity and duration of the case before and after using the Radical Cure, and also that the gentleman occupies a responsible office in one of our state institutions. We quote:—

"I would not for the world permit my name to be used, although I have no doubt it would be of benefit to many now suffering as I have suffered; but I give you a brief statement of my case.—

"For two years I have taken bromide of potassa and bromide of ammonia every day. I never passed a single night without getting up once or twice to free my throat from the matter that had dropped into it during sleep, and finally I coughed during all this time. Since taking the RADICAL CURE I have taken no potassa or ammonia, have slept soundly every night without being disturbed or distressed, not a particle of matter has dropped into my throat during sleep, and I very seldom cough a cough has left me."

A wonderful result truly, all will say, who know or can realize the extent and severity of this case. The gentleman has had eighteen bottles. This must satisfy the sceptical that there is great merit in the Radical Cure. Its mode of preparation is new and original. Ignoring the old practices and remedies, Dr. Sanford selected a new field, and has demonstrated his method to be the only proper and never failing treatment.

The following recommendations are from

who are competent witnesses to the work it is doing.

Sanford's Radical Cure has proved the best Remedy for relieving Catarrh. W. M. FELLOWS, Haverhill, Mass.

I am selling large quantities of your Sanford's Radical Cure. DR. WENTWORTH, Biddeford, Me.

Sanford's Radical Cure is having a good sale. It is just what the people have been wanting. A. M. GERRY, So. Paris, Me.

I have kept Sanford's Radical Cure on hand since its first introduction, and the sale and satisfaction in its use have been unequalled by any other similar preparation with in my knowledge. W. H. WILLIS, M. D., Reading, Mass.

I have sold Sanford's Radical Cure for a year or more, and it stands the test the best of any similar remedy I have ever sold. WILL H. OWEN, Milo, Me.

We recommend no other cure, and have no trouble in selling it. L. P. EVANS & Co., Garland, Me.

Sanford's Radical Cure has given universal satisfaction to all my customers, and above all other remedies is a success. E. F. CAREY, Haverhill, Mass.

Sanford's Radical Cure sells well, and is very much liked. Mrs. S. P. WING, Sangerville, Me.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1 00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS.

AN Electro-Galvanic Battery, combined with the celebrated Medicated Porous Plaster, forming the grandest curative agent in the world of medicine, and utterly surpassing all other Plasters heretofore in use. They accomplish more in one week than the old Plasters in a whole year. They do not palliate, they cure. Instant relief afforded in RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, PARALYSIS, CRAMPS, ST. VITUS' DANCE, SCIATICA, HIP COMPLAINTS, SPINAL AFFECTIONS, NERVOUS PAINS AND IRRITATIONS, EPILEPSY OR FITS PROCEEDING FROM SHOCKS TO THE NERVOUS SYSTEM, RUPTURES AND STRAINS, FRACTURES, BRUISES, CONTUSIONS, WEAK MUSCLES AND JOINTS, NERVOUS AND FEEBLE MUSCULAR ACTION, GREAT SORENESS AND PAIN IN ANY PART OF THE BODY, WEAK AND PAINFUL KIDNEYS, GREAT TENDERNESS OF THE KIDNEYS, AND WEAK AND LAME BACK, CAUSED BY CHRONIC INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS.

So confident are the proprietors in the great value of this Plaster over all other Plasters that they do not hesitate to WARRANT it to possess greater, far greater, curative properties than all others combined, while the price of each, viz., 25 cents, is within the reach of every sufferer in the land. Insist therefore upon having what you call for.

Sold everywhere. Sent by mail, carefully wrapped and warranted, on receipt of price, 25 cents for one, $1 25 for six, or $2 25 for twelve, by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, administrator of the estate of John T. McKenney, late of Bangor, in said county, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration, by the sum of five hundred dollars or more.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant him a license to sell, at public or private sale and convey the whole of the late homestead of said deceased, situate on French Street in said Bangor, as the residue would be greatly depreciated by the sale of any portion thereof, to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

Said real estate is the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds of said County.
